Dear readers,

Welcome to UMETAL Daily Services for China's Sales Prices of Imported Iron Ore and Foreign Quotes on Jan 4, 2013.

Statement

It is hereby announced that following the demand changes of imported iron ore in China and suggestions from Umetal members, Umetal rearranged and increased the offering prices for all key cargo at Chinese main ports.

Principle for the adjustment:

- 1> Rearranged the cargo origin orders by imported volume in 2012, biggest first;
- 2> Rearranged the cargo variety orders by fines/concentrates, pellets and lumps;
- 3> Rearranged the cargo specification orders inner one variety of one origin by imported volume in 2012, biggest first;
- 4> Added three more ports which are Yingkou, Jiangyin and Luojing

E.g. for current biggest imported iron ore trading port- Qingdao port, the spot prices have been adjusted 79 items from previous 38, containing 21 counties/regions with annual iron ore export to China over one million tonnes.

Remarks:

- Spot prices of imported iron ores at main China ports in RMB, wet metric tonne (WMT), 17% VAT & RMB35/tonne port incidental charges included, not CIF or FOB prices.
- CIF or FOB prices of imported ores are generally lower than the prices in the table below when market is increasing, but higher when market is declining, as CIF or FOB offer prices are the level one month later. The prices below are spot cargoes.
- Please use the following formula to get iron ore price in DMT, USD and tax excluded:
such as spot price of 63.5% Indian fines is RMB1,270/tonne at port Tianjin, so its USD and DMT price is:
 - 1) subtract the port charges(unit: RMB): $1270-35=1235$ (different port has different charges, but will stand at around RMB35/tonne or so.)
 - 2) calculate the price without tax (unit: RMB): $1235/1.17=1055$ (VAT:17%)
 - 3) convert to USD: $1055/6.6450=158.8$
 - 4) convert to DMT: $158.8/(1-8\%)=168.9$ (moisture of fines is 8%, pellet is 2-4%)
Equal to: $158.8/0.92=172.6$

Daily Analysis:

It was learned that both seaborne and spot iron ore prices were on the uptrend during the 3-day New Year Holiday. Rio Tinto sold a 190,000 mt cargo of 61% Fe Pilbara Blend fines at $151.38/dmt CFR China, loading January 17-26. Early this morning, offers for iron ore 61.5%-Fe PB fines climb by RMB50/tonne to RMB1050/tonne in Qingdao port while prices for iron ore 61.5%-Fe PB fines rise by US$7/dmt to US$148-149/dmt CFR China.

Meanwhile, the domestic iron ore prices up by RMB20-40/tonne today. Prices for 66%-Fe iron ore concentrates in Chaoyang city, Northeast hovers at RMB730-740/wmt, and Fe-66% iron ore concentrates in Qianxi, Tangshan RMB840-860/wmt. Facing the soaring imported iron ore prices, some steel mills tend to enlarge the domestic iron ore purchasing volume by offering higher prices before the Spring Festival.

Notice: Due to high cost and low market price of high grade iron ore fines, Indian miners stop quoting; meanwhile, supply of low grade Indian iron ore fines is suspended by port shutdown resulting from rainy season at western coast of India. Hence, latest foreign quotes of Indian iron ore we publish are for your reference only, neither actual transaction prices nor quotations from market players, which aims at maintaining the integrity of historic data.
